Attribution

Oftentimes usage permission is granted provided the institution/faculty includes an attribution statement. An attribution statement ascribes credit to the creator/owner of the content. The creator may have specific guidelines for an attribution statement.

If the creator/owner does not have specific verbiage for an attribution statement, see the following examples.

"Title of the Content," © Date by Company or Individual: Usage permission granted by Author or Group

“Biology Explained," © 2013 by Lifetime Learning: Usage permission granted by the Institute for Biobehavioral Studies at Masonite University

"Nursing Concepts," © 2012 by Nancy Nightingale: Usage permission granted by the author

"Flights of Fancy," © 2011 by Middlesex Community College: Usage permission granted by Middlesex Community College and Pat Smith